Social Media sites such as Facebook, Snapchat, Twitter, etc, as well as Forums and blogs are exciting new avenues expression creativity, and sharing interests and knowledge.

Participation in these online communities is therefore supported. However, over a number of years there have been repeated incidents where online discussions and posting of online content have caused distress to individuals or groups of members and has detracted from the community's overall enjoyment of Bowls.

The Bowls North West Social Media Policy is guided by the key principals of the Bowls North West Code of Conduct which are:

- Bowls North West wishes to operate in an environment where people show respect for others and their property. Respect is defined as consideration for another's physical and emotional wellbeing and possessions, to ensure no damage or deprivation is caused to either.
- Bowls North West wishes to operate in an environment that is free from harassment. Harassment is defined as any action directed at an individual or group that creates a hostile, intimidating or offensive environment.

- Bowls North West requires members to take responsibility for their own words and for the comments allowed on their sites or forums. - Bowls North West members do not post anything online that they would not say in person.
- Bowls North West members connect privately before they respond publicly. When members encounter conflicts and misrepresentations in social networking sites, they make every effort to talk privately and directly to the person(s) involved – or find an intermediary who can do so – before publishing any posts or comments about the issue.

- Bowls North West strongly discourages personal attacks. When someone who is publishing comments that are offensive, members will tell them so (privately, if possible – see above).
- Anonymous comments are discouraged. All content posters should be required to supply a valid name before they can post. Profiles must be checked before allowed onto official sites (facebook).
- Bowls North West prefers members not to respond to nasty comments about them, their group, event or site. If posts veer into abuse or libel, Bowls North West supports the use of disciplinary and grievance procedures to resolve issues.
- Bowls North West encourages all members to 'think before posting'. Members should recognize that even if posting to a private section of a social network site comments can appear in public areas through a variety of means and can easily be found.
- Bowls North West 'officials' have the responsibility to monitor content of it's forums and act in accordance within the Code of Conduct – Board of Management or Volunteers.

'Members should avoid posting something they will regret now or later'
